Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-7, 10, and 12-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Okita et al (US 4,734,112) or Kowligi et al (US 5,466,509). Okita discloses the liquid membrane having a support formed from a porous polytetrafluoroethylene (PTFE) film wherein the hydrophilic surface of the PTFE film is formed by laser laser treatment (claim 4, column 3, lines 1-11). Kowligi discloses a porous, expanded polytetrafluoroethylene (PTFE) film having the surface treated with a laser beam (column 4, line 58 et seq.). Since Applicant is using the same approach to modify the expanded PTFE surface, it is the examiner's position that the claimed microstructure of the expanded PTFE surface would be inherently present in the prior art product. Okita or Kowligi anticipates or strongly suggests the claimed subject matter.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-7, 10 and 12-27 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
5. The art rejections in Paper no. 9 have been overcome by the present amendment and response.
